

MRS. STRACK WINS $59.59 WITH NEEDLE

LIST OF PRIZE WINNERS IN EXHIBITION HALL

Mrs. C. E. Pierce Leads Women of Addison County with $35.40

The increasing popularity of the Home Economics department of the county fair is evident from the mere glance at the long list of prize winners and the sum total of their earnings. The premiums include first, second and third prizes in cooking, canning, embroidery, knitting, crocheting, drawn work, hemstitching, lace, arts and crafts and painting on china and canvas.

Mrs. K. E. Strack of Saranac Lake, N. Y., was the highest winner, with $59.59 earned on nearly one hundred exhibits of needlework. Three Rutland women were second and third, respectively in the amount of prize money, with Mrs. Carrie E. Pierce of Middlebury fourth and leader of the Addison County exhibitors.

HAD TO HAVE AN ARGUMENT

Old Yankee Was Sick to Death of Atmosphere of Peacefulness Which Surrounded Him.

An old Yankee was station master, telegraph operator, ticket agent and baggage man at a small town in Maine. A passenger bought a ticket to New York. Then he walked round to the baggage room to have his trunk checked. The whiskered little ticket agent met him in his new character as baggage man. "Wunt check it?" he said.

"Why not? That's a perfectly good ticket. You just sold it to me. The ticket permits me to check baggage on it."

"Said I wouldn't check it an' I wunt check it."

"But you have to check it. I—"

"Don't talk big to me, young man. I'm boss here. Said I wouldn't check it, an' I wunt."

Then followed 15 minutes of heated dispute. Then the distant whistle of the approaching train was heard. The old man peered down the track and then returned to the passenger. "Changed my mind," said he. "I'll check it."

"But why all this row? Why wouldn't you check it in the first place and save all this argument?"

"Young fellow," responded the railroad functionary, without even a twinkle in his eye, "I'll tell you how 'tis. For a spell, nobuddy's been a-comin' down here like they used to. Hang 'round th' pasture fence drivin' 'bout peace an' politics 'n sich. Been somesum. Haint had enny argument with nobuddy in three months, an' b'gum! I wuz goin' hev one or bust!"—New York correspondent in Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

IS WORLD'S LARGEST ISLAND

Distinction Undoubtedly Belongs to New Guinea, if Australia Is to Be Excluded.

New Guinea, also called Papua, is the largest island in the world, excluding Australia. It lies north of Australia and south of the equator, and has an area of about 215,000 square miles, with an estimated native population of about 1,000,000. Of the total area in 1914, the southeast portion, 90,000 square miles, with a population of 200,000, was a territory of the Commonwealth of Australia; the northeast portion, 70,000 square miles, with a population of 120,000, was the German colony of Kaiser Wilhelm's land, and the west portion, 155,000 square miles, with a population of 600,000, was part of the Netherlands, East Indies. An expedition of Imperial Australian troops took possession of the German territory on September 24, 1914, and the former German possessions in New Guinea have been allocated to the Australian Commonwealth. The area of the territory under British control has thus been increased to about 160,000 square miles, with an estimated native population of 320,000.

CHAMPION AWARDS AMONG THE CATTLE

HOLSTEIN HEIFER CROWNED QUEEN OF FAIR EXHIBITS

Three New York and Two Vermont Herds Divide the Coveted Ribbons

The judging of the championships and grand championships of the classes of cattle exhibited at the fair was one of the main attractions for the breeder on Thursday. The competition was more lively than in years past when the state herds were permitted to enter the same ring as the dairy farmer's. The judge was Lewis H. Furgason of Windham, N. Y., the same who had made the awards in the regular classes without a criticism.

A yearling heifer in the Holstein class, owned by George McGeogh of Cambridge, N. Y., was judged the best animal of the entire show and given not only the championship of the junior Black and White cows but the grand championship of the 1921 fair.

Durhams

In the Durham class, S. E. James of Middlebury, one of the largest breeders of the shorthorn in the county, was given all the ribbons but one, that of the best junior calf which was won by Ernest Kelley of Salisbury. The James herd's ribbons were pinned on the best senior and junior bulls, junior and senior cows and the best bull and cow of all ages. Mr. James was given the prize of $25 offered by the American Shorthorn Breeders Association for the best bull.

Holsteins

In the Holstein class G. E. McGeogh of Cambridge, N. Y., whose stalls boasted a large number of blue and red ribbons already to the credit of his entries at the local fair, was the only winner. The best animal of the show was picked from his herd, a yearling heifer, and crowned grand champion of the greatest cattle exhibit ever seen at a county fair in New England. Mr. McGeogh was awarded the Silver Trophy of the Holstein-Friesian Association for the best exhibit and special ribbons.

Guernseys

One of the best dairy herds of Vermont, the Davis Bros. Guernseys of Hartland, which had come to Middlebury for the first time, was the undisputed victor in its class.

Brown Swiss

The entries of Brown Swiss cattle made by Gibson Brothers of Hudson Falls, N. Y., were given the championship ribbons for all ages.

Jerseys

No exhibit attracted more attention at the fair than the Jerseys from the Mountain View Stock Farm of Benson, Vt. Excepting for the ribbon won by R. W. Palmer of Middlebury for the best senior cow, the awards all went to the Benson thoroughbreds.

Dutch Belts

The only winner in the Dutch Belted class was Leroy Harris of Glens Falls, N. Y., to whom was awarded the regular number of ribbons for champions.

MORGAN HORSE WINNINGS AT OUR GREAT COUNTY FAIR

Miss Sabra Huestis Won in Saddle Class with Gelding She Had Trained Herself

Willowmoor, a five-year-old bay gelding, very well ridden by Miss Sabra Huestis, won the Ladies' Saddle Class at the Addison County Fair, with B. O. Wales' "Don," by Donlin, and ridden by Miss Fisk, taking second. Willowmoor is sired by Troubadour of Willowmoor, the famous Morgan stallion at the head of the Government Farm in Weybridge. Miss Huestis, one of the most expert of the lady riders in the vicinity, had trained the horse for several weeks for the contest.

The first and second prize winners in the open and remount classes for 1921 foals were also sired by Troubadour of Willowmoor, they being owned and bred by L. T. Vanelette and P. H. Conlon respectively. The third prize winner in these classes was sired by Scotland.

McMahon, sired by Scotland and owned by W. S. Todd, won the Morgan stallion championship. The Todd stable of Middlebury also won the yearling stallion class with a son of McMahon and received third in this class with a yearling by Troubadour of Willowmoor, second prize going to Ben Wales' yearling by Donlin. P. and J. McMahon, managers of the Todd stables, also won with two geldings in their classes.

Adelaide, a six-year-old bay mare sired by Snoqualmie, a half-brother to Troubadour of Willowmoor, won the Ladies Driving Class and the harness pair class with mate. The class for pacing roadsters was won by Irene, a black mare raised at the Government Farm and now owned by Jud Blane.

B. O. Wales' gelding Hero, sired by Bennington, won the men's saddle class with John Elmer's chestnut mare, bred at the Government Farm and ridden by Eben C. Ryder, getting second place.

A suitable place to show saddle and driving horses would aid materially in drawing more entries to this interesting feature of the Addison County Fair in succeeding years.

Black Hole of Calcutta.

This name was given to an apartment in Calcutta in which a party of English were confined on the night of June 20, 1756. The garrison of the fort connected with the English factory at Calcutta was captured by the Nawab Siraj-ud-Daula, who caused all the prisoners taken to be confined in a room 18 by 14 feet 10 inches. This cell had only two windows, obstructed by a veranda. Of the 150 people who spent the night in a horror of thirst, heat and agony from pressure, only 23 survived the experience.

LEGION NEWS OF STATE AND NATION

In an address formally opening the new quarters of the Holyoke, Mass., post of the American Legion last week General John J. Pershing complimented the Legion for not participating in politics.

The third annual reunion of the Thirty-fifth Division, composed of Missouri and National Guard units, will be held at Kansas City on the same days as the national convention of the American Legion—Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 and 2.

With handkerchiefs covering their faces as smoke masks, members of Hoboken, N. J., post of the American Legion aided in removing the bodies of 4,700 American soldiers when fire of unknown origin destroyed two of the army base's piers last week.

Brig. Gen. Charles Dawes, Secretary of the Navy, Denby, Gov. Miller and John G. Emery, national commander of the American Legion, will address the third annual convention of the New York department of the American Legion at Jamestown, N. Y., Sept. 23 and 24.

Policies favoring navy men of the American Legion will be discussed at the first conference of the newly appointed committee on Naval Affairs of the Legion, Edward E. Safford, New York, chairman of the committee has called the conference in Chicago September 20.

With the recent receipt of their state bonus checks, members of the Sturgis, South Dakota, post of the American Legion have pledged $11,000 of their money for the erection of a $25,000 community building which is to have a gymnasium, shower bath, bowling alley, rest room and a dance hall for the entire town.

Arrested and facing detention for trial for violating a traffic ordinance, James Anderson, Nashville, Tenn., was passing unhappy moments when his policeman escort noticed his American Legion button. "Here, I'll go your bond, buddy," he said. "I wear the same button." It developed that the men belonged to the same Legion post.

Favoring the name of a private soldier who gave his life for his country during the world war to that of "some illustrious general" an American Legion post of Minneapolis, Minn., has
